

German Ice Report - No. 02

2018-02-12

CC 11000 21010 30//0

FF 11000

There is new and up to 10 cm thick ice in some harbours and in shallow and sheltered coastal waters.

Outlook

Overnight, temperatures will mostly drop below the freezing point but will rise to up to 5°C at daytime. Hence, in shallow and sheltered areas some new ice may form during the nights but over day the ice coverage will decrease again.

BSH - Ice Service